FUND FACT SHEET DECEMBER 2023

MAMG Global Sukuk Income-I Fund

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

The strong rebound fixed income markets experienced in November stretched into December. Both the government bonds as well as the credit markets ended the year on an upbeat note. Softening inflation data from the US led to expectations that, over the next few months, inflation would fall to levels that would be in Federal Reserve's (FED) comfort range.

Remarks made by FED officials seemed to confirm investor expectations and the FED's December dot plot, by signaling 75bps of cuts in 2024, added further fuel to market rally. For investors, the best case scenario for 2024 is a soft landing for US economy with inflation tamed without a significant decline in economic activity. Developments over the last two months have increased the probability of US economy following a path which should provide a favourable backdrop for investors. In line with global credit, Middle East sukuks ended the month higher with investment grade segment outperforming global peers on attractive relative valuations coupled with solid fundamental outlook.

The fund's portfolio duration remains low and stable at 3.6 years (average maturity of 5.0 years) with cash and cash equivalents and IILM issues accounting for 0.8% of the NAV. The portfolio diversification stays at high levels (104 issues and the top 10 positions accounting for 28.8% of the total NAV) with an average rating of BBB-. The Fund's currency diversification (MYR, IDR, UAE, and GBP) is stable at 1.7% of NAV - which is below the self-imposed ceiling of 25%. The portfolio has 6.4% YTM (188 bps versus the equivalent maturity on the US-curve).
